

Cover Figure

The added value of miRNA-based salivary liquid biopsy in oral squamous cell carcinoma prognostication. Quantification of miR-423-5p levels in saliva samples improves risk stratification when combined with lymph nodes (LN) status (adapted from Romani et al)¹⁹.